With Lance Stephens

LANCE STEPHENS (born American), Lance Stephens (a.k.a. HakatRe®) is a Central Florida based fashion designer whose roots are in art history, graphic design, multimedia and film. Having studied digital media at the University of Central Florida, HakatRe® has taken his art history background of 25+ years and his love of fine art and high fashion into uncharted territory, combining the timeless styles of the ancient past with today's rich and illustrious fabrics to create an entirely unique fashion line which defies age and defines elegance. As a designer and historian, HakatRe® focuses on ancient Egyptian culture which he calls "The source, the origin and the influence of all high-fashion." With his passionate approach to recreating the styling cues from that era, he has produced stunning casual and formal wear, some of which have not been seen or worn in over three thousand years. The "Pharaoh of Fashion" as he is called by his contemporaries, HakatRe® embodies the best of both old & new.

The HakatRe® brand officially debuted in December 2014 and has since become a household name within the Central Florida fashion connoisseurs. After having opened for some of Florida's most prestigious fashion show venues such as Orlando International Fashion Week, HakatRe® has also earned the title "Top 10 Designer" in the World famous Park Avenue Fashion Week - Emerging Designer contest in November, 2015 - being selected only 6 months after the HakatRe® brand debuted. In 2016, HakatRe® introduced its brand-new casual line, "Kemetians" which continues the tradition of offering timeless fashion inspired by ancient Egyptian art. HakatRe reminds us... "That which is timeless never goes out of style." Stay connected with Lance on Facebook: @lancestephens & Instagram: @pharaoh_hakatre
